Contents of Vol. 120

Part 1

J. R. Fryer. Transmission electron microscopy of organic pigments 1

Luis-M. Cruz Orive. On the estimation of particle number 15

N. J. Severs. A simple technique for the examination of urothelial surface morphology by transmission electron microscopy: platinum–carbon replicas of critical point dried bladder tissue 29

Zbigniew Gawlik and Irmina Elżbieta Wiśniewka. Application of interferometry in quantitative histoenzymatic investigations 43

R. A. Vriend and H. D. Geissinger. An improved direct intermicroscopic (LM→SEM→TEM) correlative procedure for the examination of mammalian skeletal muscle 53

Michael J. Lawrence. A fibre optic ring illumination system for use in low-powered dark field (including Rheinberg method) video, cine and photomicrography 65

D. Neumann and A. G. S. Jánossy. Action of gibberellic acid in a dwarf maize mutant: an X-ray microanalysis study 73

R. M. K. Lee, R. E. Garfield, J. B. Forrest and E. E. Daniel. Dimensional changes of cultured smooth muscle cells due to preparatory processes for transmission electron microscopy 85

Tudor Barnard. Ultrastructural effects of the high molecular weight cryoprotectants Dextran and polyvinyl pyrrolidone on liver and brown adipose tissue in vitro 93

Short Technical Notes

L. A. Freeman. A novel device for the direct recording of diffractograms 105

L. J. Seed. The preparation of fragile protoplasts for electron microscopy 109

S. Tsuji. A method for obtaining cryo-ultramicrotome sections of 35 nm thickness monitored by myofibrillar fine structure 113

Letter to the Editors

G. W. W. Stevens. Protection against loss of silver grains from autoradiographs 117

Book Reviews 119

Part 2

J. C. H. Spence and W. P. Bleha. A real-time optical image projection system for electron microscopy 121

D. Gratias and R. Portier. Principles of TEM contrast simulations of inclined interfaces in homogeneous crystals 129

K. W. Andrews and S. R. Keown. Optical diffraction: applications to lamellar microstructures 137

Pierre Guiot, Pierre Baudhuin and Carsten Gotfredsen. Morphological characterization of liposome suspensions by stereological analysis of freeze-fracture replicas from spray-frozen samples 159

G. R. Millward. Computer simulation of electron microscope images on 35 mm film 175

D. Crawford. Electron microscopy applied to studies of the biological significance of defects in crocidolite asbestos 181

D. Rugar, J. Heiserman, S. Minden and C. F. Quate. Acoustic microscopy of human metaphase chromosomes 193

Mary A. Judd. One micrometre paraffin sections: an aid to interpretation of immunoperoxidase staining of immunoglobulins 201

Short Technical Notes

A. T. Marshall. Recording transmitted beam current for X-ray microanalysis in a scanning transmission electron microscope 207

I. A. Johns and G. W. Skyring. Discriminatory X-ray mapping of two or more elements by a pulse stretch method 213

L. L. Franchi and D. Symons. A simple aid in the evaluation of glass knives 217

John Kuo. A simple method for removing stain precipitates from biological sections for transmission electron microscopy 221

P. Evers, K. Robinson, L. Maistry and E. Higginson. Description of a cover-slip holder for, and observations on, the critical point drying of cell cultures 225

Book Reviews 231

Part 3

SELECTED PAPERS FROM THE SYMPOSIUM ON THE MICROSCOPY OF CLAYS AND SOILS

Introduction 235

Y. M. SERGEYEV, B. GRABOWSKA-OLSZEWSKA, V. I. OSIPOV, V. N. SOKOLOV and Y. N. KOLOMENSKI. The classification of microstructures of clay soils 237

J. E. GILLOTT. Use of the scanning electron microscope and Fourier methods in characterization of microfabric and texture of sediments 261

N. K. TOVEY and D. H. KRINSLEY. A cathodoluminescent study of quartz sand grains 279

M. J. WILSON and W. J. MCHARDY. Experimental etching of a microcline perthite and implications regarding natural weathering 291

N. K. TOVEY. A digital computer technique for orientation analysis of micrographs of soil fabric 303

P. BULLOCK and C. P. MURPHY. Towards the quantification of soil structure 317

N. K. TOVEY and K. Y. WONG. The microfabric of deformed kaolin 329

H. ESWARAN, G. STOOPS and A. ABTAHI. SEM morphologies of halite (NaCl) in soils 343

E. VAN RANST, D. RIGHI, FR. DE CONINCK, A. M. ROBIN and M. JAMAGNE. Morphology, composition and genesis of argillans and organans in soils 353

V. N. SOKOLOV, V. I. OSIPOV and M. D. TOLKACHEV. The electron microscopic studies of pore space of solids by a method of conjugate surfaces 363
